Fairy tales often have happy endings. All of us know what happened in that mushy fairy tale, Cinderella. Yeah, it's romantic, the prince actually finding Cinderella. They live happily ever after. Sometimes happy endings can be, well….boring. So predictable. No zing! So…happy. What if the shoe fit one of the step-sisters? What happens then? Use your imagination here. Be funny if you like. Or be serious if you feel like it. Or be an Alfred Hitchcock or Steven King. Whatever you are into, writer your ending to the Cinderella story – but this time, make it so that the shoe fits one of the icky sisters. What does Prince Charming do? How does Cinderella cope with it? And what about the Fairy Godmother? (Word Count ____)
