

The Best Grandmother in the World

I have the best grandmother in the world; she's kind, caring, and helpful. She makes people feel good about them. She tries to get along with everyone, who ever doesn't like her that's their lost

Kind is more than a description for my grandma, it's more of a feeling that you get from her. When I was born, my grandmother took me in. I still lived with my mother, but I stayed with my grandmother. My mother was 19 years old when I was born. I think she needed a lot of help, so my grandmother helped. She would keep and watch me most of the time. My mother and I moved out of her house when I was about 2 years old, but she always made it her job to make sure I was okay. When I was 6 years old, there was a fire in my house. My brother, mother, and I got out, I was crying and scared but I saw my Gram and I knew everything was going to be all right. After the fire we went to stay with her.

You will know my grandmother is caring when she takes time out to talk to you. She talks about her experiences and compares them to yours. You would think she went through the same thing. She makes sure everyone feels great. She always made sure I was ok. She would always try to keep me out of trouble.

My grandmother is like most grandmother's but different. She helps you once or gets you out of trouble but she won't keep doing it over and over again. She helps me with my homework, and shows me short cuts to learn how to do it, to make it less difficult. She drives me to the bus stop every morning. She tries to make sure I get where I need to go. She even helped me get my first job.

I really think my Grandmother should get the best Grandmother in the World Award. She's kind, caring, and very helpful. She's everything you would ever need in a grandmother
